DEBS MUST SERVE TIME

The Supreme Court Refuses a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

FURTHER PROSECUTION UNLIKELY

It Is Not Believed the Government Will Press the Criminal Charges Against Debs and His Associates—Vice President Howard Ready to Go to Prison.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The United States supreme court yesterday denied the application of Eugene V. Debs, the leader of the American Railway union's strike in connection with the Pullman boycott, for a writ of habeas corpus. The decision was read by Judge Brewer, and was unanimous. All the contentions of the government were sustained.

The conclusions of the court, as announced in Judge Brewer's opinion, were that the government of the United States was one having jurisdiction over every foot of soil and over every individual within the boundaries of the United States, and that while it was one of limited powers it had sovereignty within those limitations. It had power to invoke civil courts to remove obstructions to interstate commerce, and the civil courts had the right to enjoin those who made obstructions to such commerce.

The injunction was no bar to criminal processes for acts done in violation of the injunction. The circuit court having final jurisdiction, its act was not reviewable by the supreme court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and therefore the writ was denied.

It is not likely, in view of the decision of the supreme court, that Debs and the other officers of the American Railway union now under indictment for violations of the anti-trust and the mail obstruction acts, will not be called upon to stand trial. Under this decision Debs will serve his sentence of six months in jail, and it is thought that the government will consider this a sufficiently severe punishment, without prosecuting the criminal cases against him or his associates.

In a Hurry to Serve His Time Before Thanksgiving Day.

CHICAGO, May 28.—George W. Howard, the former vice president of the American Railway union, was the first of the men to offer to surrender himself to United States Marshal Arnold and begin his uncompleted sentence. He was informed that the marshal must first get the mandate of the supreme court and that it will be a week or more in reaching here.

"You know where to find me," said Howard. "I cannot go back to Woodstock too quick. I want to get through with the sentence. The opinion of the supreme court was no surprise to me. In fact I was opposed, as were most of the others, to taking up the issue. If the appeal had been sustained we would have gained a point for labor organizations, but not saved ourselves from jail. Now what do we get? Double time. Had the boys followed my advice and left the thing alone we would have been out of jail on April 1. Now we will get out in time to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner, if we have money enough to buy one. Debs will get out in time to participate in next year's Decoration services. The truth of the matter is, our lawyers made a mess of it."

C. S. Darrow, counsel for the defendants in the Debs case, said: "A week ago that august body, the supreme court, decided against the income tax. Today it follows suit against Mr. Debs and his colleagues. Such action shows how the land lies, and is pretty plain notice to the people on which side the supreme court stands. Workingmen and their interests are as much outside of the supreme court's world as if the former were the inhabitants of another planet."

EUGENE DEBS FEELS BITTER.

He Says "Every Federal Judge Now Constitutes a Czar."

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 28.—President Eugene V. Debs, of the American Railway union, whose case was acted upon yesterday by the supreme court, was seen at his home last night and said:

"I know only of the decision as it appears in the evening dispatches, and assuming that it is correctly reported it appears that the case was not decided upon its merits, but that it was found that the circuit court, having final jurisdiction, its act was not reviewable by the supreme court, and therefore the writ was denied.

"I expected a favorable decision, but I am not disappointed. After the decision by that tribunal upon the income tax bill I am not at all surprised to see the decision of the lower court affirmed in our case. Both decisions are absolutely in the interest of the corporations, syndicates and trusts, which dominate every department of the federal government, including the supreme court.

"Jefferson's prophesy is being literally fulfilled. The 'sappers and miners,' as he denominates them, are at work undermining the federal republic. States rights are practically eliminated, while the rights of a citizen to a trial by a jury of his peers as vouchsafed by the constitution, is broken down. Every federal judge now constitutes a czar."

For the Great American Stake.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The richest stake of the Brooklyn meeting, the Great American, will be run at Gravesend this afternoon. It is worth in the neighborhood of $12,000, and a big field of crack 2-year-olds is on the card for this event. The entries are: Mormon, Montezuma, Alarum (formerly Joe Rogers), Frank Harris, Palmerston, Barrystone II, Hazlet, Handspring, Applegate, Jefferson, Refugee and Axiom.

MR. GRESHAM DEAD

The American Premier's Illness Terminates Fatally.

THE STORY OF HIS ILLNESS

It Reached the Critical Stage on Saturday Last.

HIS SON OTTO ARRIVED TOO LATE.

The Dying Man Frequently Inquired for the Son Who Was Hurrying from Chicago to His Father's Bedside—The Remarkable Endurance of Mrs. Gresham. Brief Life Sketch of the Farmer's Boy Who Became a Legislator, a General, a Judge and a Member of Two Cabinets.

WASHINGTON May 28.—Secretary of State Gresham died at 1.15 o'clock this morning at his rooms at the Arlington Hotel. All hope of his recovery was practically abandoned when his sinking spell occurred, shortly before 6 o'clock last evening. The most powerful heart stimulants known to medical science, nitroglycerine and digitalis, were injected hypodermically. He recovered slightly, but after two severe rigors shortly before 11 o'clock he began to fail rapidly and his vitality began to ebb. The three physicians saw that the end was near, and at 12 o'clock withdrew to the anteroom, leaving in the sick chamber only the members of his family, Mrs. Gresham, her daughter Mrs. Andrews, and son-in-law, Mr. Andrews, and the nurses.

Up to that time he had been conscious and talked at intervals. His words were full of bravery. He fully appreciated his condition, and spoke words of hope and cheer to his stricken wife and daughter. Sometimes his mind wandered slightly and went back to the days of long ago, recalling incidents of love and happiness in the springtime of his life. He spoke, too, of his absent son and his private secretary, Mr. Landis, whom he loved as a son, and who, like his son, was speeding to his bedside all too late. But just before the physicians retired he ceased speaking, though he appeared to be conscious.

Mrs. Gresham sat at the bedside smoothing his fevered brow and occasionally reading to him from the Bible passages which he loved. As the end approached his pulse became hardly perceptible. Gradually his eyes glazed and closed. But Mrs. Gresham, with noble and heroic fortitude, continued to read the words of the gospel to her departing husband. Her daughter and son-in-law stood with bowed heads at the side of the couch.

At 1:15 o'clock his breathing ceased; a peaceful shadow passed over his pale countenance, his pulse flickered and the sorrowing family were in the presence of death. One of the nurses conveyed the news that the end had come to the physcians in the next room, and they, in turn broke it to the watchers in the reception room.

Mrs. Gresham's devotion to her husband during his illness has been of the most tender, patient and faithful character. Although physically slight she displayed, so said one who has been in the sick chamber several times a day throughout the secretary's illness, remarkable endurance and nerve. For four weeks she has hardly had her clothes off. Night and day she was at the bedside, snatching an hour or two of sleep when she could on a lounge in his room. She seemed determined to fight off death. "If he dies," she said many times, "I lose all."

But she did not complain. With patience and devotion she ministered to his every want, giving everything her personal attention, and trying to cheer and brighten him when he was peevish and fretful. The utmost persuasion was required to induce her even to lie down. On Sunday she grew so faint from sheer exhaustion that she reeled and would have fallen had not one of the nurses caught her in her arms.

Mr. Gresham's illness began May 1 when he was attacked with acute pleurisy. The effusion filled the pleural cavity, but his condition yielded to treatment until last Saturday, when he suffered a relapse, accompanied by acute pneumonia. His condition since that time has been extremely critical. His heart action became enfeebled, requiring the constant administration of the most powerful heart stimulants. One or the other of his physicians, Drs. John and Prentiss, or both, were constantly with him. His pulse reached 160, and was so feeble that it could barely be counted.

Stimulants kept him alive. Nitro-glycerine and strychnine were given continuously hypodermically, together with digitalis and whisky. He was able to take no nourishment save in liquid form—principally milk punches—and the whole effort of the physicians was directed toward sustaining and strengthening him. The right pleuritic cavity was filled with the effused fluid, and the lung so compressed as to make breathing impossible. About :30 last evening he sank so rapidly that death was momentarily expected. Restoratives were applied and hypodermic injections of nitro-glycerine and strychnine were made. His blood vessels were in a state of collapse, and his condition was so extremely critical that the physicians decided that transfusion was immediately necessary to stimulate the heart. Dr. Van Rensselear, an expert young surgeon, was hastily sent for. He opened a vein in the left arm and infused a pint and a half of normal saline solution. The operation was successful, and at 9 o'clock the stricken statesman had revived somewhat.

The secretary lay in one of a suite of rooms on the ground floor of the Johnson annex of the Arlington Hotel. At his bedside were Mrs. Gresham, his devoted wife; his daughter, Mrs. E. F. Andrews, of Chicago, and his son-in-law, Mr. Andrews, the nurses and the three physicians. Secretary Lamont, First Assistant Postmaster General Jones, Assistant Secretary of State Uhl, Chief Justice Fuller, Colonel Corbin and Captain Fuller, of the army, remained in parlor A, connecting with Secretary Gresham's suite, receiving such persons as were admitted and answering inquiries.

Secretary Gresham was conscious almost the entire evening. Many times he inquired for his son Otto, who was on his way from Chicago. Secretary Lamont and his private secretary, Mr. Seager, kept the wires busy trying to locate him with the purpose of hastening his arrival, if possible, by means of a special train. It was discovered about 9 o'clock that Otto Gresham was on the Pennsylvania limited, due to reach Altoona, Pa., at midnight. The Pennsylvania officials declared that it would be impossible to expedite his passage to Harrisburg, but a special train was arranged for to bring him to Washington. In this way he reached here soon after 5 o'clock this morning, four hours too late.

SECRETARY GRESHAM'S CAREER.

The Farmer's Boy Who Served in the Cabinets of Two Presidents.

Walter Quintin Gresham was a soldier, a judge and a statesman. He rose to the rank of major general of volunteers during the rebellion. He was for fourteen years United States district judge of Indiana and for eight years United States circuit judge for Illinois, and held three cabinet portfolios: Postmaster general and secretary of the treasury under Arthur, and secretary of state under Cleveland.

Mr. Gresham was born in Harrison county, Ind., on St. Patrick's day, 1832. His grandfather was a farmer, honest, faithful and courageous, particularly noted for his piety. His father learned the cabinet making trade, which he pursued together with farming. His courage made him a most popular idol in his neighborhood, and he became a colonel of militia. His mother, Sarah Davis, was of Scotch-Irish descent. The house in which she lived until her death, a few years ago, and in which her distinguished son was born, was a humble cottage perhaps twenty feet wide and thirty long, a story and a half in front, standing on a side of a hill past which runs the old Indiana state road. Until his mother's death Judge Gresham often visited her there.

In 1833 Gresham's father was elected sheriff, and the next year was murdered by a noted desperado whom he had gone to arrest. His mother was left a widow with five small children. Walter Q. was but 2 years old when his father was killed, and Benjamin, the eldest, was 8. A struggle ensued, but from the hard hand of penury they earned the right to live and finally to prosper.

Benjamin, like his father, learned the trade of carpenter but also clung to the farm. By dint of hard work and the assistance of his brother Walter succeeded in entering the seminary at Corydon. Two years there and one at Bloomington university completed his education so far as schooling was concerned. He began the study of law under Judge W. A. Porter, one of the noted characters of southern Indiana while acting as deputy clerk, and in 1854 entered into partnership with Thomas C. Slaughter, an eminent lawyer of that time and afterwards judge of the circuit court.

To combine law and politics was then the universal custom with young lawyers in the United States, and Gresham was no exception to the rule. His admission to the bar and the Nebraska agitation were coincident. The Whig party, with which all of his political traditions were associated, had dissolved. In 1855 the Republican party was formed and with it Gresham at once allied himself. He stumped his section of the State for "Pathfinder" Fremont, who had been nominated at Philadelphia. In the law Gresham had gained a good reputation as a careful, painstaking lawyer.

Meantime the country was sweeping on to great events. Mr. Gresham was elected to the legislature, where he, as chairman of the committee on military affairs, brought forward a militia bill which placed Indiana on a war footing. With the first shriek of war's alarm Governor Morton appointed him lieutenant colonel of the Thirty-eighth Indiana, but before he saw active service he was appointed colonel of the Fifty-third Indiana, in December, 1861. Gresham's regiment was ordered to join Grant after Donaldson.

Gresham was guard the station at Savannah when the battle of Pittsburg Landing (Shiloh) occurred. He participated in the siege of Corinth, however, and later took part in Grant's Mississippi campaign and the siege of Vicksburg. August 11, 1863, he was appointed brigadier general on the recommendation of Grant and Sherman, and placed in command of the Natchez district.

In the following spring he was placed in command of the division of the Seventeenth corps of the army of the Tennessee, which took part in the campaign against Atlanta. He was in the battle of Kenesaw Mountain and in the engagements that followed until July 20. At Leggett's Hill, before Atlanta, he was struck by a sharpshooter's bullet just below the knee. It was a dreadful wound, and kept the gallant general off the field for a year. To the day of his death Gresham never recovered the full use of his limb. Many times the surgeons said the leg must come off, but the sufferer replied: "When that leg goes I go too." He saved the leg, but was on crutches for several years.

The war over General Gresham returned to his profession, forming a law partnership at New Albany, Ind. In 1866 he was nominated for congress against M. C. Kerr, but the district was heavily Democratic, and he was defeated. When General Grant became president he offered him the collectorship of the port of New Orleans, the second best office of the kind in the country, but he declined, as he did the position of United States district attorney of Indiana.

He was finally prevailed upon to accept the United States district judgeship for Indiana, which he held until April, 1883. When Garfield was forming his cabinet Gresham's name was among those originally agreed upon. Blaine particularly urged his selection. The situation became such that Garfield was compelled to modify his original intention and Gresham was not invited to accept a portfolio. Garfield was assassinated and Arthur succeeded him. When Postmaster General Howe died in April, 1884, Gresham, then holding court at Evansville, was tendered the cabinet position by telegraph and accepted. Near the close of Arthur's term, on the death of Secretary Folger he was appointed secretary of the treasury, a position he held until October, 1884, when he withdrew from the cabinet altogether.

In December, 1884, Judge Drummond having retired from the office of United States circuit judge, President Arthur, who had taken him from the bench, had the satisfaction of restoring him to the bench at the close of his service.

In 1888 Judge Gresham was made a prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency at the Chicago convention against Harrison, Sherman, Alger, Allison and other Republican leaders whose names were presented. Harrison ultimately captured the Indiana delegation, however, and was nominated. Previous to that Gresham had displayed a strong inclination to dissent from the extreme high tariff doctrine of the Republican party. His liberal views on the tariff created against him the antagonism of the extreme protectionists at Chicago.

When the Republicans assumed power and revised the tariff by the passage of the McKinley law Judge Gresham, with other Republicans, openly dissented, and in 1892, after the nomination of Mr. Cleveland by the Democrats, he, with other distinguished Republicans like Wayne McVeagh, who was attorney general under Arthur, renounced their allegiance to the Republican party and advocated Mr. Cleveland's election. After Cleveland was last elected he summoned Judge Gresham to Lakewood, N. J., where after a consultation he tendered him the position of premier of the cabinet he was forming. Judge Gresham accepted, and assumed the duties of secretary of state March 7, 1893.

Oystermen Fired Upon.

PORT NORRIS N. J., May 28.—The first serious affray in connection with the oyster war took place yesterday. A shore battery for the protection of the oyster grounds opened fire on the sloop Armstrong. Firing continued for some minutes, and the men on board the sloop decided to go ashore and see who was trying to hit the vessel. As soon as the men landed on shore they were fired on with serious results. Joseph Hilton, of Pleasantville, was struck in the thigh with some shot and his leg was broken. His wound is very serious. Oliver Sneed was struck on the arm, but escaped without further injury. The men were unable to learn who did the firing.

The General Assembly Adjourns.

PITTSBURG, May 28.—The 107th General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America adjourned yesterday at the close of the afternoon session. The last day was characterized by speed and dispatch. The proceedings contained nothing of a sensational character, being confined to routine matters with one or two exceptions. It had been expected by some that action would be taken against Dr. Briggs by deposition, but such a motion was not proposed. Saratoga was chosen as the next place of meeting. The concluding prayer was delivered by ex-Governor Beaver.

The Synod's Convictions Stand.

PITTSBURG, May 28.—The first business of the United Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday was to take a vote on the appeal of Dr. W. H. Blair, from the First synod of the west, of a conviction of selling liquor to intemperate men and young men. The vote resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the appeal, and the decision of the synod stands. Two other appeals were heard and disposed of. They were those of J. R. Wallace and J. G. Stewart, of Monmouth, Ills., convicted of teaching at variance with the church. Stewart is a faith curist. Both appeals were defeated.

Strikers Getting Their Old Places.

PITTSBURG, May 28.—There is a general resumption of work in the mines of this district, the strike having been declared lost by the United Mine Workers' officials. The strikers are trying to get their former places back again, and most of them have succeeded. A majority of the river mines have closed down, owing to low water, and there are plenty of miners for all the work. This may lead the operators to take advantage of their victory to dictate terms to the men. It is thought they will not offer less than sixty cents per ton, but they may insist on iron clad contracts and hold back 10 per cent. to insure a fulfillment of them.

Murdered His Mistress.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—After living together as man and wife for some time the intimacy existing between George Elliott, of Woodbury, N. J., and Mrs. Eva Smith, living in the rear of No. 735 Carver street, ended yesterday in a fatal quarrel. The woman was shot and killed by her lover, who made good his escape, although the crime was committed at the house of his mistress, almost within arm's reach of the Nineteenth district police station. The tragedy is supposed to be due to jealousy. Both Elliott and his victim were colored, and the woman had been living apart from her lawful husband.

BYRNES' RESIGNATION.

New York's Police Chief Steps Down and Out.

A CELEBRATED THIEF TAKER.

During Four Years Administration of the Detective Bureau of New York Over 3,300 Arrests Were Made and Sentences Aggregating 10,000 Years Were Imposed.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Chief of Police Thomas Byrnes has been retired from the force by the police commissioners. His application for retirement was placed before the board by Commissioner Parker and it was unanimously accepted. Inspector Peter Conlin has been made acting chief of police and Captains Moses W. Cortright, Brooks and McCullagh were appointed acting inspectors. At 3.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Byrnes shook hands all around with the attaches of the building and with tears in his eyes left the building.

Thomas F. Byrnes was born in Ireland in 1842 and was brought to this country when a child by his parents. He served in the civil war in a New York regiment of volunteers for nearly two years. In 1863 he was made a member of the New York city police force, was made roundsman about four years later and in 1869 he was promoted to sergeant. He was appointed captain in 1870. The first precinct he commanded was the East Fifty-first street, and afterward he was sent to the Mercer street station.

It was while he was captain there that he became famous and noted as a detective through his successful work in the Manhattan bank burglary. His success was so marked that he was designated to reorganize the detective bureau at headquarters. This was in 1870, when he was transferred and placed in charge of the detectives. He was promoted to inspector, and under his leadership the detective bureau became a most successful institution.

A special law was enacted several years ago creating the office of chief inspector for Mr. Byrnes at a salary of $5,000 per year. He held this office until he became superintendent, on April 12, 1882, succeeding William Murray, who was retired on that day. During the first four years of Mr. Byrnes' administration of the detective bureau more than 3,800 arrests were made. During the entire time that he was in charge of the bureau the criminals arrested by his men received sentences to state prison aggregating 10,000 years.

Legal Defeat for Hetty Green.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Hetty Green, the New York multi-millionairess, was defeated yesterday in her attempt to have a bill of sale for some Chicago property worth over $500,000 set aside by a decision of the supreme court. The legal contention over this property covered many years. In 1864 Robert W. Hyams, now deceased, purchased the property for the joint account of himself and Hetty Green's father. In 1885 Hetty Green secured a decree for the winding up of the joint venture entered upon in the lifetime of Robert W. Hyams and her father, the sale of the property not to be valid unless it brought $600,000. Under that decree the property was sold to George M. Bogue, et al., for $602,000. Mrs. Green and her husband filed objections to the sale on the ground that Bogue was not the bona fide purchaser.

Launch of a Marine Monster.

GLASGOW, May 28.—The new British warship Terrible was launched on the Clyde yesterday. The Terrible is a first class steel cruiser, copper sheathed, of 14,200 tons displacement and of 25,000 indicated horse power, which is estimated to give her a speed of twenty-two knots. She is 531 feet long and 71 feet beam. The Terrible will carry a crew of 900 men and will be armed with two 22-ton and 18 quick-firing guns. She is looked upon as being the most powerful vessel of her type in the world.

Another New York Murder Mystery.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A murder for which the police are unable to find any leading clew to the identity of the perpetrators, occurred yesterday afternoon in the basement of a four story brown stone residence in West Fifty-sixth street. The victim was Ferdinand Harris, the colored butler, employed by M. C. D. Borden, a wealthy cotton mill owner, who lives in the house with his family. Whoever did the shooting was admitted to the house by Harris himself, and two men were seen running from the place directly after. The case is shrouded in mystery.

Holmes' Trial Begun.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The case of Herman Mudgetts, alias H. H. Holmes, charged with conspiring to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life association out of $10,000, was placed on trial yesterday in quarter sessions court No. 1, Judge Hare presiding. The charge grows out of the alleged attempt of Holmes and two accomplices to palm off on the Fidelity company a dead body found in a house at No. 1316 Callowhill street as that of Benjamin Pitzel, whose life was insured in the company for $10,000, whereas, it is said, Pitzel is still alive.

To Contest a Millionaire's Will.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 28.—The will of the late ex-Judge Handley, of this city, who left an estate valued at over $3,000,000, is about to be contested by one of the surviving relatives of the deceased jurist. There is much secrecy in the matter, and every one connected with it keeps a silent tongue. It is said that the relative contesting lives in the west, but neither his name nor that of his New York attorney can be learned.

Argentine Will Pay Indemnity.

ROME, May 28.—The Argentine Republic has agreed to pay $5,000 indemnity for injury done to Italians' property by the revolution in the city of Santa Fe in 1893.

A LEADER FOR LIBERTY.

General Gomez, the Battle Scarred Veteran Now Battling For Cuban Independence.

With 7,000 desperate and determined revolutionists in the field Spain recognizes that the task of quelling the insurrection in Cuba will not be an easy one, and thousands of troops are being hurried from Spain to the Queen of the Antilles. The Cuban patriots are officered by able men and are believed to be well equipped with arms smuggled into the country from America.

Maximo Gomez, their leading general, commanded the eastern wing of the Cuban rebels in the ten years' revolution that began in 1868 and has spent many years of his life in fighting for Cuban liberty. Gomez has been planning the present revolt for four or five years despite the fact that he was nearly shot to pieces in the revolution of 1868. It is said that his hands are almost useless, and that when he goes on the battlefield his reins are tied to his hands and his legs are strapped to his horse.

Gomez was born in Santo Domingo and is 59 years old. He was a soldier in Santo Domingo and became a lieutenant before he left the island for Cuba. When the revolution of 1868 began he enlisted as a private soldier in the ranks of the patriots, but his marked military talent and his daring led to his promptly securing a captaincy. In 1869 several hard fought battles that resulted in victories over the Spanish troops caused his rapid promotion to the rank of colonel. In 1872 he and General Calixto Garcia captured the town of Holguin, and Agramonte, the commander in chief of the Cuban army, made him a brigadier general. In Puerto Principe his forces repeatedly routed the Spaniards, and his valor won for him the sobriquet of "Gomez the Terror."

When General Agramonte died, Gomez was placed in command of the insurgent forces, but the revolution seemed doomed to end in failure, and he escaped to Jamaica and later made New York city his headquarters. He and Jose Marti, president of the Cuban republic, are now believed to be with the rebel forces in the province of Santiago.

The Chief End of Man.

Mr. Cuyler tells the story of a little boy, the son of good Presbyterian parents, who was asked the question in the catechism, "What is the chief end of man?" and answered it:

"Man's chief end is to glorify God and annoy him forever."

"There are too many men," says Dr. Cuyler, "who act as if that were their chief end."—Ram's Horn.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched, and this can only be done by such a standard alterative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

TEACHING HER A LESSON.

How a Young Man Made Sure of His Girl.

CHAPTER I.

As Jack de Clancey sat in a retired corner in his club earnestly talking with his lifelong friend, Sidney Castleton, who had just returned from a year's travel on the continent, it was plainly evident from the expression of his face that he was not altogether a happy man. For some time the two friends had been closely engaged in conversation, each telling the other of his life during their separation, when Castleton broke in abruptly:

"Seems to me, old man, you've something on your mind, and for the life of me I can't understand what it is."

De Clancey was silent for a moment; then, putting his hand impulsively into that of his friend, he said sadly:

"I had not intended to refer to the matter, but now that you've spoken of it I'll tell you all. As you say, I'm engaged to a charming girl, whose true womanly qualities I've no reason to question. I felt when I asked her to become my wife that she would be a fit companion for me through life, but I regret to say that a matter has come up which in time may prove a fatal barrier to our love. It is this that troubles me."

"Does Miss Pennstock wear bloomers?" asked Castleton.

"She does," solemnly replied his friend. "It was a gradual descent. At first the mere thought of riding a wheel was abhorrent to her. But the other girls rode, and at last she succumbed."

"What you must do," said Castleton meditatively, "is to make her see herself as you see her, old man. You must make her ridiculous without her knowing that you've done it. This will bring her to her senses. Why don't you try hypnotism?"

"Do you think it can be done?" gasped De Clancey.

"I know it," replied his friend warmly. "I will introduce you to my hypnotic companion at once."

CHAPTER II.

It was 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, and Jack de Clancey, with his silk hat, stick and immaculate frock coat, sat calmly waiting for his fiancee, Miss Maud Pennstock. Presently she came tripping down stairs and entered the room, a vision of all that was beautiful, womanly and attractive.

"There, dear," she murmured as she put up her lips to be kissed, "I'm all ready."

Fixing his steadfast gaze upon her and summoning all the resources of his will, De Clancey remained for a moment in silence, then said quietly:

"Aren't you going to wear your bloomers, dear?"

A horrified expression came into the face of the girl he loved, which slowly but surely changed to one of bewilderment and then to utter helplessness as she replied hesitatingly:

"I don't know. Shall I?"

The long weeks of trial, in which De Clancey, profiting by his friend's advice, had practiced his art cautiously and unknown to her—for he had never before willed her to do anything which was not good form—had done their work.

CHAPTER III.

The church was crowded. The chimes had died away, and the first notes of the processional hymn were swelling through the stately edifice.

A strange and startling figure moved slowly up the long aisle. Persons craned their necks at the sight of this unusual spectacle. There was a subdued murmur, the sound of suppressed laughter; but, all unconscious, the girl moved with stately step to her seat, while just behind her in frock coat and with silk hat and stick followed a young man with a hard, set look on his face.

During the services and the sermon he never relaxed for a moment this supreme effort of his life, but as the recessional hymn died away and the vast throng of worshipers arose from their seats he muttered:

"Now I will let her come back to herself."

No need to dwell on the despair, the agony, of that hurried exit from the church. There are moments in life which are best forgotten and never referred to. But as they gained the entrance she whispered to him as she gazed in terror at the tittering crowd:

"Jack, if you don't get a carriage at once I will never forgive you."

CHAPTER IV.

Jack de Clancey and his future bride sat together that evening and discussed the awful catastrophe of the day.

"I don't know what it was," she said sadly, "but when you mentioned the word bloomers a spell came over me. It seemed impossible to resist it, and all the way to church and until I started to go out this was upon me."

Then she added brokenly, "Why did you let me do it?"

"Why, my darling," he answered, "I didn't know. I merely mentioned it in jest, and when you asked me if you really should I said, 'Why not?' in the same vein. Then when you actually took me at my word, how was I to know that it wasn't right after all? The women are introducing so many innovations that"—

"Mercy! Has it come to this?" she exclaimed wildly. "Are we really so ridiculous and under such a spell? Well, it has taught me a lesson. Henceforth I shall be on the safe side."

"And never wear anything that is not womanly?" he asked eagerly.

"Never," she replied.

"Then," said Jack de Clancey, clasping her to his heart, "you are indeed the girl I love best in all the world." And as he left the house that evening an hour later than usual he said joyously to himself, the light of a great love illuminating his radiant face:

"It was the hardest thing I ever did, but my whole future happiness was at stake."—New York Herald

A VERY UNIQUE DEMAND.

Letter to the President from a Prospective Father of Twins.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Ever since some wag put forth a story that the president had given a present of money to the parents of twins or triplets, the White House mail has been filled with letters of application on that score, and it is estimated that at least $10 00) a day might be disbursed thus at the rate of $500 to each applicant. A sample of the kind of letters that come in the mail to the president is the following sent by a man from Texas, who addresses the president as "Mr. President Cleveland:"

"Dear Sir—I see you are giving $500 for twins. Please send me $100 right away, for I am going to get married this week to a girl that is a twin. I come from a twin getting stock, so you will see that there is no risk to run, and when my wife has twins I will draw on you for the balance. I need the money to start housekeeping with. I am in good health, and so is the girl I am going to marry. I have always been a Democrat. I voted for you the first time and will vote for you again and name the twins after you. Don't disappoint me, for I may have to get married sooner."

In another case a woman writes that she has failed, after waiting a year, to get that $500 that the president is said to give to the parents of triplets, and now she is willing to compromise on the basis of the money for the first pair of pants for her little Cleveland.

The clerks at the White House do not permit any of these effusions to reach the president, and they are not even dignified with an answer now that they have become so numerous and annoying, for of course there is not a word of truth in the story that the president has ever bestowed such bounties.

Legislature to Adjourn June 8.

HARRISBURG, May 23.—The legislators will adjourn June 8. This date was fixed last night by the House, and will probably be concurred in by the senate, although a great many members of that body do not like the idea of closing a session on a Saturday, as they cannot then get home until Monday. They are opposed, however, to prolonging the session another week, and will doubtless concur in the resolution. The house rules committee last evening fixed the order of business for this week. It provides for three sessions on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The evening sessions will begin a half hour earlier and close at the pleasure of the house, no definite time being fixed. The order gives appropriation bills the precedence over all other measures.

Marti's Body Buried.

HAVANA, May 23.—The body of Jose Marti, the insurgent leader who was killed at the battle of Bocas de dos Rios arrived at Santiago de Cuba. Having been embalmed in accordance with the orders of Captain General Martinez de Campos, it was exposed to the public gaze at Santiago de Cuba in order that there should be absolutely no doubt in the public mind as to the identity of the dead leader. Later in the day Marti's body was photographed and was afterwards buried.

Buchanan Resentenced to Death.

ALBANY, May 23.—Dr. Robert W Buchanan was arraigned in the court of appeals yesterday and resentenced to death, the time being set for the week beginning July 1. BRITISH COLUMBIA'S PREMIER.

In Thirty Years Turner Has Accumulated a Fortune and Achieved Political Fame.

Hon. John Herbert Turner, the new premier of the province of British Columbia, is an Englishman by birth and education. He was born at Claydon, near Ipswich, England, in 1834, and was educated at Whitstable, near Canterbury. At the age of 22 he sailed from England to seek his fortune in Canada. He embarked in business at Charlottetown, Prince Edward island, but in 1862 he caught the gold fever and joined the rush to British Columbia. Upon reaching Victoria, however, he became convinced that there were no bonanzas in the goldfields and devoted himself to mercantile pursuits in Victoria, then a small town. In 30 years he has accumulated a fortune and risen to the very top round of the political ladder in the province.

JOHN H. TURNER.

He became prominently identified with the militia, and during the Fenian excitement, years ago, organized volunteer companies to defend Vancouver island. He rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the militia and retired from the service in 1881. He has served three years as alderman and three years as mayor of Victoria, now a thriving city of 17,000 inhabitants and the largest place in the province, as well as the capital. He has been chairman of the British Columbia Benevolent society, the Royal hospital and the British Columbia Agricultural society.

In 1886 he represented Victoria in the legislature of the province and joined the government faction. For eight years he was minister of finance, and his salary as premier and attorney general is $5,000 a year. He has large business interests throughout the province and has done a great deal to develop and protect the mining and fishing industries. In 1860 he married Miss Elbeck of Cumberland, England.

The province of British Columbia now has a population of about 100,000. Vancouver city is the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Victoria is the Canadian port of great steamship lines engaged in trade with China, Japan and Australia.

WILDE IN AMERICA.

THE EX-APOSTLE OF ÆSTHETICISM AS HE APPEARED TO US.

Stories of His Experiences While on His Tour—Caricatured by Du Maurier and Satirized by Gilbert—Some Account of His Plays.

Oscar Wilde first achieved notoriety as a prostrate apostle and then as the leader of the then infantile æsthetic craze. He carried his æsthetic peculiarities so far that he became the subject of Du Maurier's caricaturing pencil and Gilbert's satirizing fun. That may have been what he was trying for. Neither the caricaturist nor the satirist diminished the ardor with which Wilde pursued what was vaguely called æstheticism. The Bunthornes of "Patience" made up in exact imitation of Wilde, and he posed in the lobbies of the same theaters and composed phrases which outdid in lilylike languor the phrases Gilbert had thought to be satires. One of the songs of "Patience" which seems to contain a more or less pointed allusion to Wilde runs:

Then a sentimental passion of a vegetable fashion
Should excite your languid spleen;
An attachment, a la Plato, for a bashful young potato,
Or a not too French French bean,
Though the Philistines may jostle, you will rank as an apostle
In the sentimental band,
If you walk down Piccadilly with a poppy or a lily
In your mediæval hand,
And every one will say
As you walk your mystic way,
"If he's content with a vegetable love that would certainly not suit me, Why, what a most particularly pure young man this pure young man must be."

The more limp Du Maurier drew his caricature the limper was Oscar when he confronted the next assemblage; the longer Du Maurier made his people's hair the longer Wilde staid away from the barber's.

Up to that time, 15 years ago, Wilde had done little else to attract attention to himself. He was known to be the son of exceptionally clever parents and winner of the Newdigate at Oxford, but besides cleverly advertising himself and writing a few verses he had done no clever original work and was not seriously considered. His reputation as lecturer, man of fashion, wit, poet, novelist, essayist, playwright, has been made in most particulars in the last half dozen years, all since his lecturing tour in this country.

He came here about 12 years ago, frankly advertised as a freak lecturing on "æstheticism." He wore knee breeches, silk hose, lace cuffs and was otherwise variously freakish in his dress. At Boston a half hundred Harvard boys marched into his lecture hall dressed as he was, each carrying a lily. Wilde's noted imperturbability did not desert him. He merely lisped, "How tenderly droll!" and went on with his lecture.

In a western city he was the guest of a club among whose members were a number of stout drinkers. They undertook to "tank up the æsthete," as they expressed it. The process was long. As the sun was breaking into the club windows Wilde looked about over a room strewn with fallen braves and said to the one man still able to comprehend speech:

"We've had a charmingly quiet little evening. Don't you feel like a bit of a run about town before breakfast?"

But those who met him under normal conditions found Mr. Wilde a witty, engaging talker, unusually well informed on a wide range of literary and art subjects, and quite able to care for himself in any mental encounter. The public at large, not knowing this of him, refused to accept him or his cult seriously, and Wilde returned to England richer only in experiences and a few hundred pounds. He had apologists, not of his class, for his "lilylike" eccentricities.

About three years ago his play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," was produced in London and later here, and that at once made him one of the most talked about playwrights living. There was not much seriously objectionable in the sentiments expressed in this play, not to theater goers who had become accustomed to "Divorcon" and its kind, and this did not seem to satisfy Mr. Wilde. He wrote "Salome," wrote it in French, and arranged with Sarah Bernhardt to produce it in London, but the lord chamberlain refused to authorize its production, or, to put it the familiar way, prohibited it, and Wilde threatened to go to France to live, which the Marquis of Queensberry expressed a longing for him to do, but he did not.

A year and a half ago Mr. Wilde managed to contrive and have ventilated in The Pall Mall Budget a quarrel with T. P. O'Connor, in which he expressed his opinion of the "ordinary journalist" in a manner intended to increase the scope of the quarrel, but it did not.

In spite of the harsh things which have been written lately about the moral quality of his later literary work, a recent London critic wrote of him:

"Mr. Oscar Wilde has a very wholesome influence upon contemporary thought, though there are people who think otherwise. It is not that he is original or even absurd. He is never entirely either. But he sticks his pen into the somewhat torpid consciousness of the average Englishman and digs up the clods of truth which have caked and hardened therein. He turns upside down the proverbial wisdom which most of us regard as eternal verity and shows us that it looks as well one way as the other."—New York Sun.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor visits Middletown one day each month. Will be at 21 Broom street, Port Jervis, Wednesday, June 5th. Office hours from 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A CHANGE TO MAKE MONEY!

The times are hard, but here is a good show. In the last month I have made $175 selling Climax Dish Washers. I never saw anything take like they do. When any women see me wash the dinner dishes, clean and dry them in one minute, they buy one right away. Anyone can make $6 a day right at home easy. I have not canvassed, so anxious are the people for the Climax they send for them. Write to the Climax Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio, and they will send you circulars. It is easy selling what everybody wants to buy. I will make $3,000 this year easy.

TUESDAY, MAY 28, 1895.

Independence in thought and action, sturdy honesty, high standards of duty and absolute fearlessness in the discharge of duty were the characteristics that made Walter Q Gresham one of the great men of his day and generation. His selection by President Cleveland as Secretary of State, a few months after his renunciation of Republicanism, was a surprise to the country but the wisdom of the President's choice was justified by the issue of events and the new convert to Democracy proved himself on more than one occasion the truest Democrat in the Cabinet.

Sudden darkness settled over New York city, just after noon yesterday, and for fifteen minutes the city was shrouded in impenetrable gloom, made all the darker and gloomier by a heavy downpour of rain. It was so dark that lights were lighted in offices and business places and even in the street cars, while vessels on the rivers hung out their night signals. The sudden darkening was awe-inspiring and made many ordinarily brave men feel very nervous. Many curious optical effects of the sudden darkness are noted, one being a magnifying effect which brought out every architectural detail of the tall buildings in the lower part of the city. The cause of the sudden darkness as given by Observer Dunn was the vapor-charged condition of the atmosphere and the banking of clouds to an unusual depth.

In its opinion in the Debs case, the Supreme Court affirms the legality and justice of every position taken by the administration in regard to the Chicago strike trouble. The Court says that any attempt to prevent the obstruction of interstate commerce and the transportation of mails, through the prosecution in the State courts of those guilty of such obstruction, would have been so slow and uncertain as to foredoom its failure and that the United States Circuit Court had undoubted jurisdiction to issue an injunction forbidding interference with the mails or interstate commerce. It follows from this, that the entire strength of the nation may be used to sustain the mandates of its courts, and enforce in any part of the land the full and free exercise of national powers, and the security of all rights entrusted by the Constitution to its care; and if the emergency arises the army of the nation and all its militia are at the service of the Federal Government to compel obedience to its laws and the mandates of its courts.

Alimony and Counsel Fee Denied

Judge Cullen, in Brooklyn, yesterday, denied a motion for alimony and counsel fee for Martha A. Hunter, in her suit against John S. Hunter, of this city, for absolute divorce. The complaint alleges that Hunter, who is totally blind as the result of a shooting accident, abandoned her soon after her marriage in March, 1892, and is now living with another woman.

Motorman Sparks Sues for Divorce.

The truce patched up in Recorder's Court, yesterday, between Motorman Edward Sparks and his wife, was only temporary, for, this morning, Mrs. Sparks renewed her application for his arrest for non-support. Before the warrant could be served on him, however, a summons was served on her in his suit for divorce on the statutory ground. Vanamee, Watts & Vail are Mr. Sparks's attorneys.

Delaware Commandery, K. T.

The annual election of Delaware Commandery, K. T, will be held at its asylum in Port Jervis, this evening. The commandery degrees will be conferred on several candidates from Midland Chapter, this city.

A. O. H. OFFICERS IN COUNCIL.

Important Business Transacted at a Meeting in Port Jervis,

The State officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met in Port Jervis, yesterday, and adopted a plan for raising New York's quota of the $50,000 necessary to endow a chair of Gaelic language and literature in the Catholic University at Washington. It was decided to organize a ladies' auxiliary to the order and the reports of the State officers were read and approved. A public meeting in the evening was largely attended and addresses were made by Rev. Father Sheehan, assistant rector of St. Mary's Church, Port Jervis, Postmaster Murray, of Hornellsville, State Secretary P. H. Nolan, and Miss Maggie Gallagher, of Port Jervis.

A Painter Injured by a Fall.

Mr. Samuel N. Mapes, a painter who lives at 209 East Main street, and who is employed by Edward Tennant, fell from a ladder on which he was at work, this morning, and was so badly hurt that it was necessary to remove him to his home. The full extent of his injuries has not yet been learned.

The Mary Powell Excursion.

The threatening clouds and the cool weather made the Mary Powell excursion for the benefit of Thrall Hospital anything but a success. The special car from Goshen brought up two passengers. Eighteen passengers boarded the train at Wickham avenue and twenty-sight at Main street, and a few were picked up at stations down the road.

Spring Medicine

Is a necessity because the tonic of winter air is gone, and milder weather, increased moisture, accumulated impurities in the blood and debilitated condition of the body, open the way for that tired feeling, nervous troubles, and other ills. The skin, mucous membrane and the various organs strive in vain to relieve the impure current of life. They all welcome to assist Nature at this time when she most needs help, to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the laboring organs and build up the nerves.

"I was in a run down condition. I was weak and nervous and could not eat anything. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and before I had finished the first bottle I could see a change for the better. I kept on taking it and I am now so that I can eat heartily and can do my work." MRS. JOHN W. PEACHEY, Alloway, N. J.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Arrangements All Completed by the Joint Committee of the G. A. R. Posts.

The joint committee on Memorial Day exercises held its final meeting at the store of Mr. J. T. Ogden, last evening.

The committee on music reported that DeWitt Camp Fife and Drum Corps of twenty pieces had been secured for the exercises at Phillipsburgh, in the afternoon of Memorial Day.

Clergymen who intend to be present at the morning parade and exercises are requested to notify Chairman John T. Ogden by card, so that carriages may be sent for them.

Carriages for the clergy, aldermen and other invited guests will be in readiness at 8:45 o'clock, Thursday morning.

The committee requests that all persons who intend to donate flowers and plants will kindly leave them at Mr. Ogden's store not later than Wednesday evening.

NEWS OF THE 24TH COMPANY.

Complimented For Faithful Performance of Duty—Decoration Day Parade —To Be Examined For Promotion.

The following orders have been issued by Captain McIntyre:

I. This company will assemble at the Armory for parade and drill on Tuesday evening, May 28th, 1895, at 8:15. This being the occasion of the "May Dance" and closing drill of the season, the commanding officer takes great pleasure at this time in complimenting the officers and men of this command for their faithful performance of military duty and their interest in and for the welfare of the organization during the past season. The percentage of attendance has been higher than ever before in its history, and the advancement in the knowledge of the duties of a soldier being of a corresponding ratio.

The uniform for Tuesday evening, May 28th, will be fatigue with Campaign hats and leggins.

II. On Thursday morning, May 30th, at 8:30 o'clock, this company will assemble at the Armory and form for parade and escort to the Grand Army of the Republic during the ceremonies of the morning of Memorial Day.

Uniform—Full dress with white helmets and leggins.

III. From June 1st and until further orders the Armory will be open only Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

IV Private Geo. M. Millspaugh is hereby directed to appear before the Examining Board for non commissioned officers, for examination for promotion, subject to the call of the Board.

ENRIQUE DUPUY DE LOME.

Spain's New Minister Is a Veteran Diplomat of Twenty-five Years' Experience.

The only trouble with Senor Muruaga, late Spanish minister to the United States, was the fact that he talked too much at an inopportune time. When the Alliance was fired upon by a Spanish warship, he freely criticised the state department at Washington and made himself so generally obnoxious that the United States would doubtless have suggested his recall had he not forestalled such an act by resigning. His successor, Enrique Dupuy de Lome, is a diplomat of 25 years' experience and will not make the mistakes that rendered his predecessor so conspicuous. He has been Spanish minister to the United States before and is very popular in Washington and in Chicago, where he officiated during the World's fair as Spanish royal commissioner general and did much to make the exhibit of Spain a conspicuous feature of the great exposition.

SENOR DE LOME

Senor de Lome was born in Valencia in August, 1851, and his grandfather was one of Napoleon's generals, it is said, and settled in Spain after his army career closed. The minister's father was the first man to introduce steam machinery into Spain in connection with silk manufacture and was a voluminous contributor to the literature of his time.

Senor de Lome began his diplomatic career in the state department in 1869 and has since served his country in Japan, Belgium, France, Germany, Uruguay, the United States and other countries. In 1882 he was first secretary of the Spanish legation in Washington, and when Minister Barca committed suicide became charge d'affaires. In September, 1892, he became envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the United States and served his country in this office for eight months. During his stay in Washington he and his beautiful wife became very popular in society and will be warmly welcomed upon their return to the capital. Minister de Lome speaks English fluently and is described as a man of great energy and nervous force.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

L. Wagner, Wholesale Druggist Richmond, Va., says: "I had a fearful attack of Sciatic Rheumatism, was laid up almost two months; was fortunate enough to get MYSTIC CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. This cured me after doctor's prescriptions had failed to have any effect. I have also heard of fine results from others who have used it." Sold by J. E. Mills druggist, Middletown, N. Y.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." "Matron of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the "LaGrippe," and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

MLLE. FAURE AND HER FIANCE.

A Lucky French Journalist Has Captured President Faure's Pretty Daughter.

The young woman who is said to have the president of France under her thumb is about to marry. She is Mlle. Lucie Faure, the bright young daughter of President Felix Faure, and the happy aspirant for her hand and fortune is M. Paul Deschanel, member of the chamber of deputies and a journalist and orator of note in France. Mlle. Lucie Faure is described as a very beautiful woman of 25, who is very popular among the visitors at the Elysee. Some Paris wag, by joining her surname and Christian name, has given her the sobriquet "Mlle. Lucifer," adding that she is as beautiful as the morning star, and that when she was born she must of necessity have fallen from heaven because she is so charming.

Mlle. Faure is also credited with being refined, well educated, witty, literary and ambitious. She has privately published a book of travels for the entertainment of her intimate friends, and she has also written considerable verse, which she reads to her intimates when they express a desire to be thus favored. She has marked talent as an entertainer, and during her father's brief regime has been her mother's principal assistant in receiving at the Elysee palace. She has often assisted as her father's secretary, and about a year ago accompanied him to Egypt.

M. Paul Deschanel is the son of M. Emile Deschanel, the eminent French professor. He is the author of a number of political and literary works that have attracted considerable attention, and he is now one of the valued members of the staff of The Journal des Debats. He was M. Jules Simon's secretary when the latter was president of the council of ministers in 1876, and he has been secretary to the minister of the interior, subprefect of Dreux and has occupied many other offices. He entered the chamber of deputies in 1885 and made a remarkable speech upon the interests of France in the east. For this oratorical effort he was twice decorated by the sultan of Turkey. In 1891 he visited the United States in order to make an official inquiry for the government into various commercial and economic matters of moment. M. Faure's younger daughter is already married. She is the wife of M. Rene Berge, a mining engineer.

Tides and Storms.

When a tempest is approaching or passing out on the ocean, the tides are noticeably higher than usual, as if the water had been driven in a vast wave before the storm. The influence extends to a great distance from the cyclone storm center, so that the possibility exists of foretelling the approach of a dangerous hurricane by means of observations furnished by tide gauges situated far away from the place then occupied by the whirling winds.

The fact that the tidal wave outstrips the advancing storm shows how extremely sensitive the surface of the sea is to the changes of pressure brought to bear upon it by the interesting atmosphere.—Youth's Companion.

The Engagement Broken.

A Frankford bard wrote a poem to his inamorata which was published in a suburban paper. He said her mouth was like a cowslip. The printer spared it and it read "cow's lip." Unhappy bard!—Philadelphia Record.

The Secret of French Cooking.

The gentle heat is said to be the secret of the superior delicacy and richness of French cooking. With a gentle heat and tight covers we may have just the amount of juice we like in our vegetables. A glance will decide this, or perhaps the ear, if the hand at the same time rests on the cover. Many kinds of meat may be cooked in this way to the best advantage. A rump steak, three or four inches thick, kept closely covered and cooked in its own juices alone, will be far more tender than when put into the oven, and this without basting and without fat, the latter having been trimmed off closely.—New York World.

Relief In One Day.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE relieves the worst cases of Nervous Prostration, Nervousness and Nervous Dyspepsia in a single day. No such relief and blessing has ever come to the invalids of this country. Its powers to cure the stomach are wonderful in the extreme. It always cures; it cannot fail. It radically cures all weakness of the stomach and never disappoints. Its effects are marvelous and surprising.—It gladdens the hearts of the suffering and brings immediate relief. It is a luxury to take and always safe. Trial bottles 15 cents. Sold by J. E. Mills, Druggist, Middletown, N. Y.

Food, when it sours on the stomach, becomes innutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood, and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetabie. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called 'Keeley Cure,' "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every interested smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for thirty-three years, and during the past two years have used chewing tobacco very extensively. My nervous system being affected considerable. I have often tried to give up the use of tobacco but always failed until I bought three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." I used tobacco at the same time while taking "Baco-Curo," and after a week I lost the appetite for tobacco—smoking or chewing. I am enjoying better health and consider your "Baco-Curo" the surest, most harmless and reliable remedy for to break the tobacco habit.

Yours truly, JOHN RODDEN,

Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr James Reid of the town of Burnside, Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo." He had chewed tobacco for over forty years and the last year used over sixty-five pounds. He commenced using "Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all his appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.

Yours truly, J. C. TAYLOR, Druggist.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This is to certify that I, William S. Sawyer of Atlantic, County of Cass, State of Iowa, having been an inveterate smoker of tobacco, bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo" Dec. 21, 1891. Began taking same according to directions and can say that I am completely cured of the tobacco habit. "Baco-Curo" is simply wonderful and I recommend it to all who are slaves to the tobacco habit and wish to be cured. I am in perfect health and have not felt so well in years. That terrible craving, which every tobacco user has more or less, has completely disappeared and I feel like a new man. Hoping that this may do some one good and lead them to try this wonderful remedy, "Baco-Curo," I remain, Yours truly,

WM. S. SAWYER, Atlantic, Iowa.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, 1 95

Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Gentlemen—For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Yours respectfully, P. H. MAHONEY,

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa, Feb. 4, 1895.

This is to certify that I, F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything, could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. Then I bought the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping that this may reach the unfortunate cigarette smoker, I remain, Yours respectfully,

F. D. KRAEMER.

HE GOT EVEN.

But Never Again Was He Asked to Preside at a Banquet.

Major Devlin, United States army, had for several years been stationed at San Antonio, Tex., as post quartermaster. He was a most amiable gentleman and had made himself very popular among the citizens by many acts of courtesy. It was therefore with great regret that citizens learned that Colonel Devlin had been ordered to Portland, Or. As soon as the date of his departure was made known several prominent citizens made up their minds to tender Colonel Devlin a farewell banquet. A meeting was privately called for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions, and this matter, as well as the other arrangements, was placed in the hands of Fritz Bender, a German resident, who went around with a subscription list. "How are you coming on with the banquet?" asked Sam Bennet, one of the committee.

"I vas disgoosted," replied Bender. "Dose rich peebles vat should pay five tollars, dey comes down mit one tollar; but, never mind. I gets even mid dose misers. Schoost vait," and Fritz winked in a mysterious manner.

The complimentary banquet was a grand affair. The wealth and fashion of the Alamo city was present. The banquet consisted of eight courses. When the third course, which consisted of fish and oysters, was brought in, Fritz got up, and in his deep voice said:

"Dose chentlemen vich haf subscribed one tollar to dis complimentary banquet to dot Kernel Devlin will blease go avay and not come pack any more. Dose schentlemen vot has subscribed two tollars can keep on eating till I tells 'em to vipe off der chins and clear dot banquet hall out. Dose high toned schentlemens vat has paid five tollars can stay right here and eat so much as dey vants."

It is needless to add that this was positively the last occasion that Fritz Bender was asked to officiate as master of ceremonies.—Texas Siftings.

" THE CHRISTIAN GIANTESS."

The Big Footed Missouri Girl Illustrated in the Christian Herald.

A few days ago, the Argus published a note of the fact that Mr. J. A Wallace had received a letter from his brother-in-law, which was written upon a piece of paper cut to the exact size and shape of the foot of Miss Ella Ewing, of Gorin, Missouri, the paper being seventeen inches long.

Mr. Ira M. Corwin, seeing the article in the Argus, handed to Mr. Wallace a copy of the Christian Herald of May 15th, which contains a half tone portrait of Miss Ewing and her mother.

Although Mrs Ewing is of medium height, the top of her head reaches but very little above her daughter's waist.

The Herald says Miss Ewing is known in the vicinity of her home as "The Christian Giantess," and is very highly esteemed by all who know her.

THE PRESBYTERY OF HUDSON.

It Grants a Letter of Dismissal to Rev Mr. Hudnut, of Port Jervis.

A meeting of the Presbytery of Hudson was held at Port Jervis, yesterday, at which Rev. W. H. Hudnut, pastor of the Port Jervis church, asked that the relationship between him and the church be dissolved and he be granted a letter of dismissal to the Brooklyn Presbytery, that he might accept a call to Grace Church in that city.

The request was granted and Rev Mr. Hudnut was appointed to declare the pulpit of the church vacant, next Sunday.

Gen DeWitt Camp's Meeting.

A regular meeting of Gen. D. P. DeWitt Camp, S. of V., was held, last evening, at which William F. Shaw was mustered in as a member.

Messrs. Tallman, Sitser, Wilson and Reed were appointed a committee to decorate graves.

After drill the Camp enjoyed a lunch at the White House Cafe, at the invitation of Capt. Merrill.

To their already large list of premiums the Advertising Journal Co. have added hats, caps, etc., at Morris B. Wolf's clothing store, and wringers and carpet sweepers at Spooner & Ayres's hardware store. Nearly 1,800 periodical books are now in use by residents of this city and vicinity and there are twenty stores where they can be used. No easier way of getting books, papers, magazines, kid gloves, shoes, photographs, furniture, etc., has ever been devised. It costs the customer nothing. Books and full information free at Crawford Furniture Co., 41 and 46 North street.

Drs. Jones & Potter's special system for curing rupture consists of placing in the canal through which the rupture passes their healing medicine with the hypodermic needle, each week, until it is entirely healed. It does not cause pain, danger or detention from business.

At the Russell House, Thursdays.
